UCSF University of California San Francisco

MORE THAN 300 YOUTHS PARTICIPATE IN SUMMER PROGRAMS

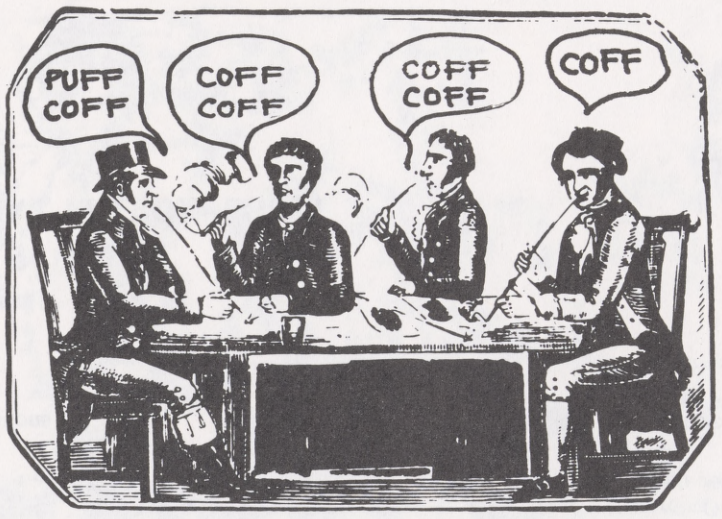
Marking the end of summer, three successful summer youth programs recently closed at UC-San Francisco. Eighteen 8th and 9th grade students of low-income or minority backgrounds in the S.F. area completed a one-week health sciences Summer Residency Program at UCSF. Funded by the UC Systemwide Office of Student and University Relations, the program included participation in workshops in English, math, and the sciences, and orientation to all four schools — Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing and Pharmacy.

UCSF also conducted a Summer Program for Disadvantaged Youths, designed to hire and train young people from S.F.'s high schools in a number of campus departments. This marked the tenth year of participation by UCSF in this program.

Another program, the San Francisco General Hospital and Medical Center Summer Youth Program employed approximately 300 high school and Community College students, and students from various community agencies including Horizons, Inc., Catholic Youth Organization, and a special project funded by the Mayor's office for the physically handicapped. Thirty handicapped students were among those given valuable work experience in paid, part-time jobs.

DEAF TOURS

Groups of the deaf in the Bay Area will soon be invited to tour the campus and health facilities at UCSF beginning this fall. Sign language interpreters will accompany each two-hour tour that will include Audiology and the Center on Deafness, the Arthritis Center, Cardiovascular Research Institute, Pathology Museum, Genetics, Dental Clinics, Nursing Skills Laboratory, and Pharmaceutical Services. For further information call 666-4394.



QUIT SMOKING/LOSE WEIGHT

The Langley Porter Institute will be offering a new service this fall in the form of a Habit Abatement Clinic. Treatment will be given to persons who wish to quit smoking, lose weight, stop smoking without gaining weight, maintain weight losses or learn relaxation training. Treatment will be offered to individuals or to small group sessions by professional psychologists. Special attention will also be given to people with increased risk of cardiovascular disease, asthma or other lung diseases. Pregnant women, who should cease smoking immediately, and married smokers will be welcome, too.

The Habit Abatement Clinic, under the direction of Sharon Hall and the clinical coordination of John Bachman, will open its doors on September 25. Neighbors interested in taking advantage of its services should phone 681-8080, ext. 453.

This new clinic is the latest addition to a series of services available to San Franciscans through the UCSF Department of Psychiatry, outpatient unit. Other facilities available are the Crisis Service, and its Rape Treatment Center, and the Center for Study of Neuroses, that is now helping people to cope with problems of bereavement and other stressful situations.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The Volunteer Office of UC-San Francisco has opportunities for people interested in working in a health sciences campus, assisting in both patient-related and non-patient programs.

The program requires a minimal commitment of one day per week for six months, and that participants be at least 16 years old. If you are interested, please call the Volunteer Office at 666-1196.

High school and college students have just completed a Summer Student Volunteer Program at UCSF in which they explored careers in health sciences and gained valuable experience, while at the same time providing to the staff of UCSF Hospitals and Clinics a needed helping hand.

The students worked closely with Hospitals and Clinics departmental staff to maximize their skills and learning experience. Volunteers transported patients to the X-ray department giving them an opportunity to see the Medical Center from a broad perspective. They also provided diversional play activity under the direction of a recreational therapist in Pediatrics which gave them experience in working with children as well as exposure to allied health careers. The students assisted in clinic operating rooms, recovery rooms, emergency rooms, hospital admissions, nursing units, the gift shop, information desk and in a variety of clinical functions.

Schools that participated in the 10-week program were S.F. State, University of S.F., City College of S.F., the University of California at Irvine, Berkeley, Riverside, and Davis; Galileo, Lowell, Washington, and Mercy High Schools; St. Rose Academy, Mt. Holyoke College, Star of the Sea Academy, and Humboldt State University.
